NEW TO THE MARKET

NERO: PRICE REDUCED TO €39,950,000

The celebrated 90 metre yacht Nero has had her price significantly reduced, to meet the market and secure a sale. This magnificent yacht represents an incredible opportunity for any buyer looking to acquire a major yacht, and is now available for inspection in the South of France.

Contact us now for further information on this unique opportunity.

Overall there is a reasonable level of activity in the market, and it is encouraging to note that there were more yachts sold in the second quarter of 2013 than were introduced to the market.

The second quarter of 2013 has seen 17 new yachts to the 40 metre+ category of the market, 51 price reductions and 19 yachts sold. The number of new yachts brought to the market in the second quarter of 2013 is less than this time last year, in fact, in the 65 to 85 metre category, there was only 1 new yacht offered for sale in this quarter, against 3 yachts sold, including the largest yacht sold this year, the 77 metre Lone Ranger, with Burgess representing the buyer. This confirms our view that well-priced yachts are really starting to sell and the backlog of inventory on the market is clearing.

Notable new yachts to the market are the iconic 99 metre Christina O, the magnificent 75 metre Ocean Victory and the well maintained 50 metre Feadship Déjà Vu. The 40 to 50 metre category of the market is still the busiest, with a steady turnover of inventory.

There were significantly fewer price reductions in the second quarter of 2013 than in the first quarter, and the total number of price reductions is also down on the same period in 2012. However realism on the part of the sellers regarding the value of their yachts remains the key ingredient in securing a sale. Yachts are generally selling below asking price, with reductions dependant on the age, type and overall condition of the yacht.

Remarkable Explorer

Inspired by the award-winning success of McMullen and Wing's 45 metre expedition yacht Big Fish, the 50 metre sistership Big Star was conceived by the same owner and is now under construction at the same New Zealand yard. Sharing the same highly efficient displacement hull form as her acclaimed predecessor, Big Star offers incredible volume, stability and outstanding sea-keeping characteristics as already well proven by Big Fish's 60,000nm programme of global cruising.

Naval architects Gregory C Marshall are proposing several superstructure concepts, drawing on the most popular features of this much admired expedition vessel. Her current design includes a flexible layout for up to 6 guest cabins, a 38 metre owner's deck and extensive outdoor living options, including a fabulous aft deck with splash pool. There is full scope for a new owner to bring their own influence to the interior layout and design, which is already equipped with an immaculate engine room and a comprehensive inventory. Big Star can be launched in less than 2 years, offering a buyer the rare opportunity to acquire an outstanding high volume 50 metre luxury custom expedition yacht, fully warranted by her original award-winning New Zealand shipyard, at significantly less than replacement cost.
